Wherever you stand in water or on land, something or someone lives there. We share the earth with so many other species, some we can barely see, and many struggling to survive in their ever-shrinking habitats.

Sustain Tahoe (inspired by Beth Amines 'Portals to Peace' Shrine kits) designed this shrine as a mindful crafting journey. Enshrine what you find precious as you remember, recover and re-story your relationship to the land, plants, wildlife, water and air – we all share.

Earth Shrine Assembly

1) Lay out pieces in order of assembly (A to A etc.) to decorate inside first

2) layout inside panel design (photos, graphics or painting)

3) glue set photos in place, or paint however you want the inside to look.

4) Once ready, apply a quick set glue or any wood glue to all the tabs of the sides and bottom

5) set the sides in place using the tab cut edges to lock into place and then set the back and sides into bottom tabs – lock set in place

6) set door post into hole on bottom floor. Glue tabs on top piece and carefully set top into back tab slots while locking the door posts in place at the same time

7) Use rubber bands to hold in place while drying if needed

8) glue set top tab on inside as door stop

9) Now you are ready to decorate the outside of the shrine and add in the top tab, if desired. The other two tabs can be glued in as doorknob

FYI: We added top tab and fingerling extensions to give it more uses (key and mail holder, jewelry, mementos) and ways to decorate.

PS the wood used is from reclaimed lumber
